Protect Your Girl Child from Early Marriage

Organized by NSS, Purbasthali College in collaboration with Women's Cell, Purbasthali College

Introduction:

The National Service Scheme (NSS) along with the Women's Cell at Purbasthali College is dedicated to promoting social welfare and community development through volunteerism and service-oriented programs. In alignment with this mission, a program focused on "protecting girl children from early marriage", a pervasive issue in many communities, was proposed.

Date: 03/03/2022

Venue: Baidikpara, Purbasthali.

Number of participants: 41

Program Objectives:

- To raise awareness about the harmful effects of early marriage on girl children and their communities.
- To empower girls with knowledge and resources to resist early marriage and pursue education.
- To foster partnership with local Panchayat to prevent early marriage and support girl' rights to education.

Program Components:

- Conducting a Sample Survey:

To understand the number of female children in the locality a sample survey was done in the adopted village of the college, i.e. in Baidikpara, Purbasthali, Purba Bardhaman.

- Awareness Campaigns:

Conducting awareness sessions to educate parents and community members about the negative impacts of early marriage on girls' health, education, and future prospects.

Using posters, banners, and placards to disseminate information and raise awareness about the importance of educating girls.

Organizing campaigns to encourage families to enroll their daughters in schools, addressing barriers such as financial constraints and cultural beliefs.

Partnership with Local Authorities:

Collaborating with local authorities, including the Purbasthali Gram Panchayat, to implement policies and initiatives aimed at preventing early marriage and supporting girls' education and empowerment.

Survey Methodology:

The survey employed a mixed-methods approach, combining quantitative and qualitative data collection techniques. Quantitative data was gathered through household surveys, while qualitative insights were obtained through focus group discussions and interviews with parents, and local people.

Key Findings:

Low Enrollment Rates: The survey revealed low enrollment rates of girls in schools, particularly at the secondary level. Several families cited financial constraints and cultural norms as barriers to sending their daughters to school.

Early Marriage and Dropout Rates: Many girls were found to drop out of school prematurely due to early marriage or family responsibilities, perpetuating a cycle of poverty and illiteracy.

Lack of Awareness: There was a lack of awareness among parents and community members about the importance of girl child education and the long-term benefits it offers.

Infrastructure and Resource Constraints: Some schools in the village lacked adequate infrastructure, including separate toilet facilities for girls, as well as trained teachers and learning materials tailored to girls' needs.

Measures to Address the Issue:

Awareness Campaigns: Conducting awareness campaigns and community meetings to educate parents and community members about the importance of girl child education and the adverse effects of early marriage and dropout.

Scholarships and Financial Assistance: Providing scholarships and financial assistance to economically disadvantaged families to cover school fees, textbooks, and other educational expenses for their daughters.

Infrastructure Development: Improving school infrastructure, including the construction of separate toilet facilities for girls and the provision of necessary learning materials and equipment.

Programme Officer
NSS UNIT
Purbasthali College

Principal
Purbasthali College
Parulia, Purba Bardhaman

Capacity Building: Organizing training programs and workshops for teachers and community volunteers to enhance their capacity in addressing the unique needs of girl students and creating a supportive learning environment.

Girls' Empowerment Programs: Implementing empowerment programs for girls, including life skills training, career guidance, and mentorship, to build their confidence and resilience and empower them to pursue their educational aspirations.

Parental Engagement: Engaging parents through parent-teacher meetings, counseling sessions, and community forums to garner their support for girls' education and address any misconceptions or cultural barriers.

Conclusion:

In conclusion, the "Protect Your Girl Child from Early Marriage" program aims to address a critical issue affecting the well-being and future prospects of girls in our community. By raising awareness, providing support services, and mobilizing community support, we can create a protective environment where every girl can thrive and fulfill her potential.

Women Education Campaign

Organized by NSS, Purbasthali College in collaboration with Women's Cell, Purbasthali College

Introduction:

The National Service Scheme (NSS), in collaboration with Women's Cell, Purbasthali College, aims to promote social welfare and community development through volunteerism and service-oriented programs. In alignment with this mission, the NSS proposes a program focused on empowering girls through education, particularly in villages where access to education may be limited. This program stems from a need to assess the number of girl children per family in the target village, revealing a need for initiatives to enhance girl child education.

Date: 05/12/2022

Venue: Baidikpara, Purbasthali.

Number of participants: 42

Program Objectives:

- To understand the no of female children in the locality through a sample survey;
- To increase awareness about the importance of girl child education within the village community;
- To foster partnership with local Panchayat to promote girl child education.

Program Components:

- Conducting a Sample Survey:

To understand the number of female children in the locality a sample survey was done in the adopted village of the college, i.e. in Baidikpara, Purbasthali, Purba Bardhaman.

- Awareness Campaigns:

Conducting awareness sessions to educate parents and community members about the benefits of girl child education.

Using posters, banners, and placards to disseminate information and raise awareness about the importance of educating girls.

Organizing campaigns to encourage families to enroll their daughters in schools, addressing barriers such as financial constraints and cultural beliefs.

Organizing campaigns for parents on topics such as gender equality, child rights, and the importance of supporting girls' education.

➤ Partnership with Local Panchayat

The report of the survey was communicated to the local Purbasthali Gram Panchayat to present the findings of the survey conducted on girl child education in Baidikpara Village and to propose measures to address the identified issues. The survey was undertaken to assess the current status of girl child education in the village and to identify barriers and challenges hindering girls' access to quality education.

Survey Methodology:

The survey employed a mixed-methods approach, combining quantitative and qualitative data collection techniques. Quantitative data was gathered through household surveys, while qualitative insights were obtained through focus group discussions and interviews with parents, and local people.

Key Findings:

Low Enrollment Rates: The survey revealed low enrollment rates of girls in schools, particularly at the secondary level. Several families cited financial constraints and cultural norms as barriers to sending their daughters to school.

Early Marriage and Dropout Rates: Many girls were found to drop out of school prematurely due to early marriage or family responsibilities, perpetuating a cycle of poverty and illiteracy.

Lack of Awareness: There was a lack of awareness among parents and community members about the importance of girl child education and the long-term benefits it offers.

Infrastructure and Resource Constraints: Some schools in the village lacked adequate infrastructure, including separate toilet facilities for girls, as well as trained teachers and learning materials tailored to girls' needs.

Measures to Address the Issue:

Awareness Campaigns: Conducting awareness campaigns and community meetings to educate parents and community members about the importance of girl child education and the adverse effects of early marriage and dropout.

Scholarships and Financial Assistance: Providing scholarships and financial assistance to economically disadvantaged families to cover school fees, textbooks, and other educational expenses for their daughters.

Infrastructure Development: Improving school infrastructure, including the construction of separate toilet facilities for girls and the provision of necessary learning materials and equipment.

Capacity Building: Organizing training programs and workshops for teachers and community volunteers to enhance their capacity in addressing the unique needs of girl students and creating a supportive learning environment.

Girls' Empowerment Programs: Implementing empowerment programs for girls, including life skills training, career guidance, and mentorship, to build their confidence and resilience and empower them to pursue their educational aspirations.

Parental Engagement: Engaging parents through parent-teacher meetings, counseling sessions, and community forums to garner their support for girls' education and address any misconceptions or cultural barriers.

Conclusion:

In conclusion, the survey findings underscore the urgent need for concerted efforts to address the barriers to girl child education in Baidikpara Village. By implementing the proposed measures in collaboration with the local Purbasthali Gram Panchayat and other stakeholders, an environment can be created where every girl would get an opportunity to access quality education and realize her full potential.
